FOREIGN MANUFACTURERS LOOKING TO THIS COUNTRY FOR FUEL.

A French Concern Wants 45,000 Tons of Anthractic a Year at a Low Price-Increased Experts of Bituminous-Late Reports of the Threatened Strike at the Mines.

The President of one of the principal coal producing companies in this country received a letter from a French manufacturing concern within the past few days asking for a sample supply of anthracite coal with a view of purchasing 4,000 tons to be delivered at Bordeaux each year. The French manufacturer expressed a desire to try the product of the American company, but his proposition regarding the price to be paid was lower than the ruling market eign demand for American bituminous coal since bituminous have recently been made from this port and from Philadelphia. Foreign consumers, especially railroad companies and industrial concerns, have found the American soal satisfactory as to quality, and for awhile conditions in the coal trade here enabled the American dealers to supply the foreign trade cheaply as the foreign consumers could buy as cheaply as an arresent the complaint is general at home. At present the complaint is general that lack of vessels and high ocean freights are seriously hampering coal exports. The for-agin demand for bituminous exceeds the facileriously an analysis of the producers are making the producers are making the producers cautious about entering into contracts for future delivery. The movement from the mines is unusually heavy, but a large quantity of coal is believed to nave been quietly put into storage, should the miners stop work it is probable that an advance in the price of coal will follow and the producers are supposed to be providing for an emergency by accumulating as large a supply as possible. The latest outgivings from the headquarters of the United Mine Workers at flazieton, Pa, are to the effect that unless the antiractic coal operators grant the demands of the men within ten days from Sept. I a strike involving 140,000 miners will be declared.

Such a strike would not only affect the home market, but it would put a stop to exports of anthracite for the time being. New York men, who are prominent in the coal trade, say that to accede to all of the demands of the United Mine Workers is out of the question. Some of the officers of the coal-producing companies declare, as the result of personal liquities, that the strike talk at the mines is confident of the county of the personal liquities, that the strike talk at the mines is confident of the producing companies declare, as the result of personal liquities, that the strike talk at the mines is confident of the producing companies declare, as the result of personal liquities, that the strike talk at the mines is confident of the confidence to young men and boys, who will have litdeclare, as the result of personal in-s, that the strike talk at the mines is con-to young men and boys, who will have lit-tuence with the great mass of miners, ider miners, it is asserted, show a de-disinclination to strike. The storekeepers of the an-ter region and other business men there, With the threatened strike averted, coal producers look for the largest exports of anthracite and bituminous coal this year in the history of the company. The Pennsylvania Railroad and the Berwind-White Company are credited with taking the lead in exports of bituminous. A representative of Hirzel, Feltmann & Co., the Broadway agents of the Italian Royal Steamship Company, says that were it not for a scarcity of vessels that firm could engage 200,000 tons of American coal at once for consumption in tasty. During the past six months Hirzel, of American coal at once for consumption in Italy. During the past six months Hirzel, Feltmann & Co. have been shipping from 500 to 2,000 tons of coal weekly on their own steamers. price as the British product. The railroads in Italy, which are owned by the Government, are beginning to burn American coal. Several cargoes of coal have been sent from this country to China and Japan within the past few months.

Existing disturbances in the coal situation in Great Britain have had much to do with the increased foreign demand for American coal. Almost every New York coal dealer of consequence has dally inquiries from European cities regarding prices and facilities for speedy shipments. Mr. Edye of the shipping firm of Funch, Edye & Co. of this city expressed the belief a day or two ago that a reduction of one shilling in the present ocean freight rates would make an important difference in the quantity of coal to be exported.

The exports of coal from the United States within the seven months ending July 81, aggregated 992,481 tons of anthracite and 3,600,274 tons of bituminous. The total exports showed an increase of 1,595,663 tons over the corresponding period of 1890. This increase was largely in shipments of bituminous coal. Export shipments of American coke during the seven months ending July 81 amounted to 240,253 tons, an increase of about 90,000 tons over the same period in 1899.

SOUTHERN RAILWAY'S REPORT. It Reflects the General Prosperity of the Territory Through Which It Runs.

The annual report of the Southern Railway Company for the year ending June 30, 1900, just issued in pamphlet form, gives compresystem with an aggregate of 6,306 miles. President Samuel Spencer remarks that the past year has been one of unusual business activity and growth in the territory reached by the company's lines. The iron and coal industries of the Southern States have been still further of the Southern States have been still further developed and a large steel plant has been completed and put in successful operation at Ensley. Ala. President Spencer says: "The increased business activity throughout the country during the year has resulted, however, in a large increase in the cost of the operations of the railways, both in labor and in materials used, and unfortunately the railways were unable, like other consumers, to increase the average price of the sole article which they have for sale—namely, transportation. Other branches of business and industry can, when the cost of price of the sole article which they have for sale—namely, transportation. Other branches of business and industry can, when the cost of production increases, increase their prices to measurably correspond, but the average rates received by railway companies practically make no advance, and as a rule continue to diminish, even in times of increased cost of operation. The railways, therefore, in time of prosperity must secure improved results, if at all, solely by the more economical handling of a greater volume of traffic."

Following is a comparative statement of the earnings and expenses of the Southern Railway Company for the year:

"These average results," asys Presulent Spencer, "do not indicate fully the improvements which have been accomplished on the lines of densest traffic, on account of the large number of branch lines in the system upon which full train loads of freight are never secured, and of the number of new loss in poor condition and with thin traffic and light-capacity equipment which have been added to the system during the years named, which have tended constantly to keep down the average affected. The improvements have been most marked in the last year because of the increase! volume of traffic and of the accumulated effect of the expenditures made in previous years to improve the property and the secure more advanced methods of operation.

KILLED THREE WOLVES.

Cary Shot Mother and Two Cubs Dead and

Wounded and Captured Another. MONTPELIER, Vt., Sept. 1 .- S. J. Dana, Town Clerk of Fayston, twenty miles west of Montpelier city, to-day said he had just paid $36 bounties for three wolves which had been killed by John Cary, a farmer of that town. One of Cary's cows failed to come home on Tuesday evening. Carv started the following morning to find it. He carried a shotgun. through the open pastures he climbed the ledge of rocks and reached the summit. He heard ar animal snarling and growling. Suddenly from behind a log up popped a wolf pup. Cary thought it some sort of a dog, but knew it was not tame. He blazed away and the pup keeled over dead. Cary found that he had killed a when in the brush he heard more barking and growling. Two more pups appeared and Cary fired. One of them was killed and the second was stunned by a stray shot.

Cary took his prizes home. He placed the wounded pup in a covered basket, carried it back to the scene of his adventure and concealed himself behind a brush. Presently a male wolf appeared, but too far away to shoot and so Cary kept quiet. The animal disappeared. Carey, after waiting for some time decided to move the basket in which the wolf pup was whining to another spot and stood up. Then he heard at that instant the brush cracking behind him. Looking around he saw a little way off the mother wolf. He fired and she dropped dead.

Carey thus has to show for his morning's adventure a she wolf, two dead pups, one live pup which netted bounties and all $48, Clerk Dana buying the live pup for $12. growling. Two more pups appeared and Cary

Man Who Had Stolen 884 From His Employer Asks to Be Locked Up.
STAMFORD, Conn., Sept. L-A man entered police headquarters late last night and said he wanted to be locked up. He confessed that he was an absconder for whom the New York police had been searching for several weeks. He said he was John Clausen, aged 81 years, and until a few weeks ago employed as a baker by John Ludwig at 1000 Park avenue, New Clausen said he had become infatuated with horse racing and craps, and in order to play them he stole from the cash drawer of his emthem he stole from the cash drawer of his employer. At first he took a single dollar intending, he said, to return the money out of his wages, but luck was against him in his investment and at each subsequent visit to the cash drawer the amount gradually increased from $1 to $10 until the total of his peculations reached $84. Then he became afraid of detection and roamed about the country in search of other employment. His conscience would give him no rest, and last night he resolved to give himself up and stand the consequences of his sin. He was locked up on his own statement. Chief Bowman telegraphed to the New York police regarding the case and this afternoon the man was taken to New York by a detective.

C. D. Minealy, the Secretary

pired yesterday. C. D. Mineary, the Secretary and Treasurer of the company, said in explanation of the delay:

"We are still at work on the report and I do not think it will be completed within the next week. It is so voluminous and involves so much detailed computation that it was found impossible to get it ready in the prescribed time. No report in previous years was filed in time. No penalty, however, was imposed."

The report will consist of about forty printed pages in book form.

INGALLS TO SUCCEED HUNTINGTON? The Well-Known Railroad Man's Response to

Stories to That Effect. CINCINNATI, Sept. 1.-From several sources there has been a story in circulation that M. E. Ingails has been decided upon for President of the Great Southern Pacific system, succeeding the late C. P. Huntington. Mr. Ingalls is at the late C. P. Huntington. Mr. Ingals is at Hot Springs, Va., with his family and in an-swer to a telegram to-day replied as follows: "Hot Springs, Va.—I never even heard of the report until your message. M. E. INGALIA."

CUT RATES FOR TROOPS.

Vice-President Stubbs of Southern Pacific Criticises Government Methods. Third Vice-President J. C. Stubbs of the Southern Pacific Railroad, who has charge of the traffic matters of that system, says: "The position of the United States Government regarding its transportation business ment regarding its transportation business is illogical and bad. The Government says to railroads, 'You shall not discriminate in rates,' and then proceeds to make an exception of its own business. After legislating against discrimination the Government throws its business at the railroads and practically asks them to fight over it."

This criticism by Vice-President Stubbs has special reference to the methods pursued in moving troops across the country.

NINTH NATIONAL BANK CHANGE. Control Has Passed to a Syndicate and Alvah

Trowbridge Will Be President. A controlling interest in the Ninth National Bank of New York has been purchased by a syndicate and Alvah Trowbridge, now President of the North American Trust Company, dent of the North American Trust Company, will become President of the Bank. Mr. John K. Cilley, now President of the Niath National, will voluntarily retire. In the event of Mr. Trowbridge's resignation as President of the North American Trust Company, it is expected that he will be succeeded by Oakleigh Thorne, who is now vice-president of that company. Mr. Thorne was President of the International Banking and Trust Company prior to its absorption by the North American Trust Company.
